

"But, boss, it's worth spending millions on a trip to Mars. If we could find life evolving there, it might save the theory!"

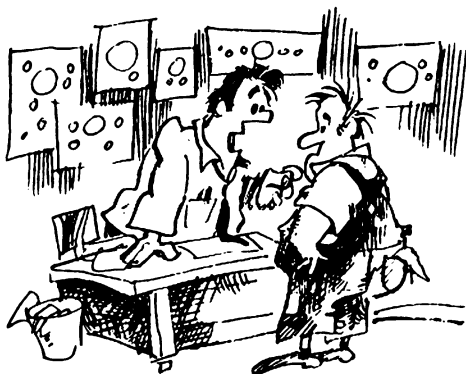

"Newton was a dumb Creationist!"
"But, prof, the textbook says he was the greatest scientist who ever lived!"

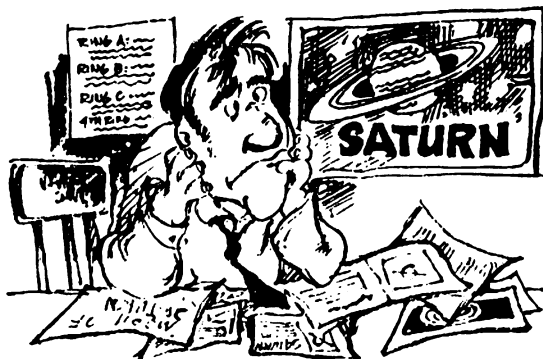

"Uranus and Venus are an embarrassment to the theory. Perhaps we can figure a way to flip them over so they'll rotate in the right direction."

"Remember students, if you're not smart enough to be a scientist, you can always become a great theorist."

"According to the theory, 1/3 of the 60 moons rotate the wrong way. It's either the theory or the moons! —Hire an engineer to get them changed over!"

"I wish the rings of Saturn weren't there."
